Product Description

ABENA's Perineal Gloves are a good personal hygiene alternative to the traditional bath with soap and water as they are rinse-free. One package is sufficient for cleansing the perineal area after using an incontinence product. The glove contains 3% dimethicone, which moisturizes while forming a protective barrier to prevent the skin from drying out. It also contains the perfect amount of soap and water, which makes it suitable for cleansing exposed and delicate skin areas and, e.g. for preventing incontinence-associated dermatitis (IAD). The material is soft and comfortable, making it particularly suitable for sensitive skin. Also, you have less friction since no towel is needed. ABENA's Perineal Gloves has hydration and protection properties. It can be used as it is, or the unopened package can be heated in the microwave for added comfort. The glove's embossed surface effectively removes impurities and bacteria from the skin. It is a moist, two-sided wet wash glove which can be used both on the front and back. The wet wash gloves offer a complete grip and control of the clean and unclean side while cleaning the patient. Flipping the sides of the glove using the same hand without necessarily using or contaminating the other hand is possible.
